The beautiful Eyes Relax will pop out when it's time to take a break. It's designed to remind you to take a break every day and you can select between day or night time. Reminds you with a nice box with a picture of your favorite valentine, and a clock to remind you of the time. If you are working long hours on your computer, it is vital to have a way to relieve the tension and soreness that builds up from prolonged use of your eyes. If your eyes have been staring at a screen for hours, you may feel that your eyes need a break and sometime to relax. This application called EYES RELAX has just the right to help you to take a break in an easy, friendly way. Go to your computer and choose a time, then Eyes Relax will ask if you want to begin working at this time every day. You can choose from day or night time and it tells you what time it is when you're scheduled to take a break and how many minutes until your break. When the time arrives, Eyes Relax will pop up and start counting down to zero. Choose from the various options available - you can choose one of the three sounds and the color of the message. You can also choose to close the program when the counter reaches 0, so your work can continue. You'll never forget to take a break again! Feel free to drag this application into your system tray and click it when the time for your break comes to remind you. Your eyes will thank you for taking a break every day. The application works on XP, Vista and Windows 7.

System Requirements For Eyes Relax:

Tiger Game Link Korean
Game Link PS Vita vs.
PlayStation 3 game G.I. Joe Versus the Tiger (PS3 Link | Vita Link) This game looks a lot better on Vita then it does on PS3 and the 2nd player is very active and fun to play with. Very exciting and fast paced. Biggest change I would like to see would be to have the armors, guns, and accessories as individual cards so you could choose any one in the game to be your turn.
