It is a fantasy fantasy game where you play a young student, Eon. On her way to school, she happens to pass an Lava land, where she ends up getting sucked into a lava port (a gateway to the Lava World). While there, she is taken on a adventure, to rescue her friends. During the adventure you will gather items and solve mysteries. Please click the link below for the full backstory. (View spoiler) The Story. You are invited to the mansion of Lava. You are a new student of the Lava school, and are now taking your first exam. The floor of the building is made of Lava. An elevator inside the building takes you up to the classroom. All the kids are waiting, and for the very first time in your school life, you can feel a real high school atmosphere. On the first day of the school year, the headmaster gives a speech about the rule of the school. Because of this rule, you will not be able to leave the school for the next four years. Unfortunately, on the very first day, you open a door and see that the hallway is filled with lava. After that door, you start the adventure. Along the path of the adventure, you meet various characters, and a lot of quests and mysteries begin to unfold. After solving each mystery, you may receive a new ability. The items which you obtain as a reward can be used in later stages. In each stage, you solve mysteries and gain levels. After you reach the level cap, you will be able to go to the next stage, and so on. The educational content is minimal and focused on making your adventure meaningful. This game is not just an idle game, you can enjoy playing while thinking about your life as a student. After you finish the game, there is a "Mark of Lava" which shows the level which you reached. If the marker reaches the limit, the door to the next stage will unlock. ××××××××××××××××× Any updates will be announced in this thread. ××××××××××××××××× P.S. This is a work in progress. I might not be able to maintain it if I continue from here. If you are interested in making this game better, feel
