You are here Vertigo has made us so damn happy, it is time we spoke of our experiences and share them with other people who are in their journeys of experimenting with it. First, I want to say how much I feel a deep and personal kinship with people who are suffering from anxiety and depression. I see a lot of them all around me, and I am deeply affected by their sensitivity, their unquenchable thirst for beauty and a genuine sensitivity and attachment to life, as well as their innate goodness. I feel a great deal of empathy for you and I wish that I could take all your hurt away. If you are reading this and thinking "I feel like she's talking about a religion", well, ok, you might be right. Anyways, this is the first step on my journey to wake up to how I have been living my life, and how I am deluded by all the bullshit I have been fed throughout the years: One God, one religion, one brand of spirituality that everybody is supposed to subscribe to. I challenge you to think about the life-changing experiences that are being shared all over the world, in places we would have never had the chance to see, and where we couldn't even have imagined how profound an impact they would have. I want you to experiment with your senses in a new way. Invert what you know about life, life is never about survival, it's about meaning, death is the meaning, and so on. Fidelity, loyalty, believing that there is only one thing that makes things right, that everything exists and flows according to the laws of nature, and that "one God", the One, is in everything, the God, the eternal Source, that is the one and only thing in the Universe that exists forever. It is bigger than us. It is bigger than life. It is bigger than our little planet. It is our One and only Creator, and we are meant to be adoration, and unconditionally love it. This is the real meaning of life. We are all the same, and we all have the same needs. We are all part of one another, we are all one, we are all on a spiritual quest. There is only love. There is only love. There is only Love. If you are not familiar with the practice of the Kabbalah, it is an esoteric spirituality based on the esoteric writings of the Jewish mystics, known as the

If your computer is having problems accessing the internet, we recommend switching to a different DNS provider. Enter the DNS servers IP addresses below, if you want to switch to Google's DNS servers, enter the Google nameservers for the United States. If you are using Firefox, you can simply add them to your /etc/resolv.conf file. For more information about changing your DNS settings visit our Main page. All DNS servers are published on the Internet's directory of public IP address space. By putting your nameserver into the list of public servers you will prevent others from injecting their own false DNS traffic. Global servers If you are not sure which countries your ISP uses for DNS servers, check the list below: Note: This list assumes you are using the China Unicom DNS servers for DNS traffic if you are in China. DNS servers for the United States The following is the list of DNS servers from the United States. To find the DNS server addresses use any of the following methods Use the hosts command, like the following: $ hosts www.bbc.co.uk 1.0.0.0 address.bbc.co.uk 1.0.1.0 address.bbc.co.uk 1.0.2.0 address.bbc.co.uk Use the dig command, like the following: $ dig www.bbc.co.uk @1.0.1.0 1.0.1.4.bbc.co.uk.emory.edu If the DNS server address is listed as a single number, like in the example above, you can assume the DNS server address of the first DNS server listed is the DNS server address for the UK's DNS servers. This is the case for the example above. If the address is listed with a different country code, like in the example below, the same method can be used to obtain the US's DNS server addresses. Address Country 1.0.0.0 United States 1.0.1.0 United States 1.0.2.0 United States 1.0.4.0 United States 1.0.5.0 United States 1.0.6.0 United States 1.0.7.0 United States 1.0.8.0 United States 1.0.10.0 United States 1.0.13.0 United States 1
