DRUMMER • MASTERCRAFT • PLAYER • CONNECTOR CONNECT The connections are important, because you need it to be possible to easily connect your drumset to your amp/consolos/mixer or PA. But how will it sound? Hereby we make it really easy for you to select the appropriate cables, 1. Preparation of the cable 2. Combining your cables 3. Finish on your cables All cables are placed on an aluminum base. It is most important, that the connections are protected on the cables by a tough, rubber material. The cable is protected in a way, that the cable is not laid over the rubber, but that the cable is pulled through the rubber. So the cable never gets tight over the rubber. This means that the sound quality will not get affected by the transmission of the sound into the cables. Assembly of the cable The cables are sold as a kit and are very easy to assemble. All cables are sewn at the ends of the cables and at the connectors and are placed on the base. You can assemble the cables individually and combine the cables on your own. Quantity 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 Cable sizes Small (6,7g) Medium (12,5g) Large (30g) XL (50g) Large (100g) All cables are assembled with a twisted pair that has the same ratio on the braid and on the diameter. The cable can be assembled individually and combined in your own way. In order to provide a cable, that really matches your needs, you need to decide how you combine the cables. You can combine the cables on your own and decide where and how you will combine the cables with each other. It is not very important how you combine them, as long as you are not to tight, is not to hard, and the rubber will protect the cable. Combining the cables Hereby you have a choice
